

Session #13

Developing personal skills to engage key stakeholders in protected area management (conflict resolution, participation)

Session Leader: Mike King – Language: English

This training session will cover the following:

- Recent developments in the field of stakeholder engagement
- Identifying good practice in relation to protected area management
- What skills are required and why
- Skill development; a practical sessions giving participants the chance to work on their own skills

The session will be highly participative drawing on the experience of the people in the room and where possible helping to address real questions and issues that they bring to the event